

“The Twelve Days of Christmas”

... a winter project ...

We've always wanted to digitize our own “twelve days,” having loved the tune and the beautiful pictures it evokes. Join us for the next couple of months as we work our way through the song, with either our free, quick to stitch 2” x 2” charm size or an upgraded, fully detailed 4” x 4” version for only $1.99. Not a Christmas project, we'll be taking our time through the busy holiday season and then into the quiet month of January to help us finish up—your project will then be ready for many Christmases to come!

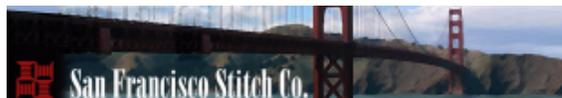

Each new free design and upgrade design will post every 4 or 5 days on the website. Announcements will be sent to our private mailing list, and will be clearly flagged in the headline of each e-mail so you won't miss a thing. You can easily unsubscribe at any time. We'll also be posting notices on our Yahoo Group, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Pinterest. There won't be any set schedule for releases; they will be designed as time permits. So it's up to you to check in. every couple of days if you don't wish to be notified by e-mail.

In the download, you'll find the new design in many popular embroidery formats, and a PDF color chart. We will not be going in order from 1-12—just as the inspiration strikes! First up—The swans are a-swimming!

Be sure to download right away! After each design posts, it's free on the website only until the next one posts. After that, the 2” x 2” size will cost $1.49 each and the 4” x 4” price will increase to $2.99. So if you miss a week—you'll have to pay—no exceptions! If you don't stitch it right away, at least open it to make sure it unzips properly and you have received and can open the color chart. We don't provide customer service or replacement on free items; we're sure you understand.

The more, the merrier, so be sure to tell your embroidery friends! Post your stitch out photos and chat to see what others are doing and how they are coming along. You can do this on all of our social media outlets listed above. Use hashtag #dontmissastitch on your posts and we'll find and celebrate you this holiday season!

Welcome all!

<http://www.sanfranciscostitchco.com/12Days>